

Homecoming: The Return of the Warrior.

“Without a sign, his sword the brave man draws, and asks no
omen but his country's cause”
-Homer

“Of men who have a sense of honor, more come through alive than are slain, but from those who flee comes neither glory nor any help.”
-The Iliad, Homer

“Men grow tired of sleep,
love, singing, and dancing
sooner than war”
-Homer

The Ford Center for the Performing Arts

Ancient Greeks/Modern Lives places live theatrical events, reading groups and lectures in cultural institutions to inspire people to come together to read, see, and think about classical literature and how it continues to influence and invigorate American cultural life.

Traveling to 100 public libraries, museums, galleries and art centers across America and focusing on veteran, inner-city, rural and underserved communities, Ancient Greeks/Modern Lives programming will occur from September 2011 to April 2013, and will be built around Greek drama and how its themes resonate today. All programs are free for the public to attend.

Join us on Saturday, November 13 for:

1PM Actor Reading
key scenes from Greek drama and “Town Hall” talk-back

Led by Peter Meineck, Artistic Director of the Aquila Theatre Company.
